

Bring A Friend Week FAQs

1. Can my child bring more than one friend? YES!
2. My child is in multiple classes; can their friend go to more than one class with them? YES!
3. If my friend doesn't have dance attire, what should they wear? A fitted T-shirt, leggings + socks (hair pulled back). We have several pairs of ballet shoes that your friend can borrow as well.
4. My child's class is full ("Out of Stock"online); can my child bring a friend? Will our friend be able to join? Students are welcome to bring friends during BAFW to classes that are full. However, new students will not be able to join classes that are marked full/out of stock. It is best to join the waitlist and email us to discuss what options would available in that situation.
5. If my friend is younger than the age requirement for the class, can they still come? No; we will uphold the minimum age requirements for group classes. However, they are welcome to attend any class in their age group as a guest during BAFW.
6. If my friend is unable to attend, can they come a different week for a free class? No; Bring A Friend Week is one week only. If they would like to come a different week, they would be required to pay a drop in fee.
7. My friend loved the class and wants to sign up. How do we each get the tuition discount? Once your friend registers online, you will both be emailed a promo code for your Winter 2027 registration for next semester. Your friend must register by October 5th for you to each be sent the promotional code.
8. My child is currently enrolled at Petit Allegro; can they try out a new class as a guest to see if they'd like to join? YES; as long as they are in the correct age bracket/level.
9. I saw BAFW online / through a different group but I don't know anyone at the studio. Can my child still try out a class during BAFW? Absolutely; all we need is an online waiver filled out before class. Please email us at info@petitallegrodance.com and we will send it right to you.
